Battalion

During the wonderful month of April, we had a promotion board alongside our Cadet of the month board. We are pleased and proud of all the cadets that have moved up in rank and expect nothing but excellence from those cadets who have stepped up to leadership positions. We had a Battalion drill competition and Bravo Company had taken first, but great job to all participants that drilled out. We have made our moves to spread out our selfless service throughout the school by hosting cadet ran detail for softball games. Super proud of those who are volunteering and representing our battalion pride. Also, for those who are excited for next year's drill and raider season, we have started drill practice and battalion workouts to strengthen as well as sharpen skills for next year's season. Nothing but wins and success, it's the standard we stand on. We are built to be unbreakable!

Company commander: Cadet Rodriguez

First Sergeant: Cadet Hodges

As the year comes to an end, we wrap up the month of April keeping things fairly lightly since most of our time was spent in the classroom. We begin by starting up a project that was to be done at home where cadets were tasked with "being a better citizen at home" by helping others at home in any way they can. Because this was a formal presentation, this was done in uniform. The week after this, we began practicing with our armed squad team because there was a competition for a streamer. As a result, we were able to keep the drill streamer secure on our guidon. The following week was spring break and the week after break, we had to present a current event and this was to be done with a partner chosen randomly. The year nears the end and hopefully, we can end off on a strong note as we approach the month of May.

Company Commander: Cadet Haugland

First Sergeant: Cadet Douglas

While April was not the longest month this year due to spring break (which all of us needed) we were still able to get some things done. Like in previous months the company did briefings on current events but this time they were given a partner to work with. The company also briefed on how they were better citizens in their home by explaining some of the things that they helped with at home. The LET 4's have been hard at work with finalizing the plans for the battalion org day on 4/30 and the military ball on 5/20. This is the beginning of the end of the school year, and I especially know how tempting it is to just stop trying and start to relax, but we need to finish the year strong to make next year even better.
