

This month has been quite eventful for our cadets, especially since we are mostly back in person. A lot of what we've been doing is prepping for upcoming major events. Our Alpha Company has been planning for a Virtual Military Ball. That is being spearheaded by our Executive Officer Cadet Major Gallop. Our Bravo company has been working on our plans for our Summer Camp we plan to host in June after the school year is over. We've been having Summer Camp prep meetings after school on Tuesday and Thursday every week which also allows our special teams to get together after school. All of our cadets have been working on our final exams, where cadets are working in groups to create a small class they can teach their fellow cadets about something JROTC-related. Across all three companies, we have been honing our Drill and Ceremony skills and overall been preparing for the next school year.

Alpha Company

In the past month, Alpha Company has been working on the final exam. Since the school year is coming to an end. In the past week we have done PT lead by squad leaders and practiced squad, platoon drill and ceremony. We have just rehearsed this year's Military Ball virtually. Cadet Ortiz's Birthday was on the 29th of April. The Company as a whole has been working on the Military Ball. The Military Ball has also been approved by the Boosters. Project leaders in Alpha will be hosting the ball. Command Sergeant Major Rosales has started working on updating the Chain of Command Board that is featured in the JROTC hallway. A couple Cadets will be participating in the Graduation Ceremony on June 9th, since a detail is needed. Major Gallop's slide show was shown in all the companies briefing all the information concerning the Ball.
